New vacuum jugs in stunning colours

Long-term design and durability - the new stainless steel vacuum jugs, Shine and Style, by Leifheit. And Bolero and Columbus, two classic designs from Leifheit's range of vacuum flasks, are now available in twelve new stunning colours. They all come in a very stylish design and are made of the highest quality materials for guaranteed durability. The new products are available just in time for Ambiente.

Easy to handle and very versatile, these vacuum jugs by Leifheit help to make every family gathering, every weekend with friends a guaranteed success, while also helping to balance a hectic professional life. Leifheit vacuum jugs keep coffee and tea tasting hot and fresh, without any loss of flavour. Leifheit, a well established company with traditional values, knows what is important in everyday life:

Reliability - and that is what the vacuum flasks stand for. Consequently, new designs are regularly added and popular classic designs are updated to satisfy current trends.

Elegant design

Two new models complement the Leifheit range of vacuum jugs. Shine and Style will be available in various sizes from May 2010. Their exclusive design makes them stand out. Both vacuum jugs have a double-walled stainless steel body and a convenient one-handed opening mechanism, to allow opening, pouring and closing with one hand.

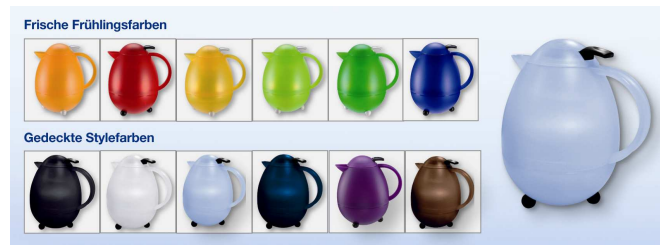

The new vacuum jug Coco in modern white, trendy purple or elegant stainless steel is ideal for open-air picnics. Available from June 2010. Coco is very shock and impact resistant and therefore ideal for excursions and trips.
